

MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL.

MILWAUKEE, TUESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 7, 1858.

VOLUME XV.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 7.

TO ADVERTISERS.

Summarized Notices appearing in the Local Columns will be charged 25 cents per line for the first, and 15 cents for each additional line. Transient Advertisements must be paid for in advance. The cost of insertion must in all cases be paid on the copy when handed in, as no "bill for bill" is given. Weekly Advertisers will be held strictly to Advertisements pertaining to their business. All other Notices will be paid for in advance. Extra displayed Advertisements, and those with large cuts will be charged by the square for each inch. Extra Ordinary Notices of Deaths and Marriages must be charged. Outlays and expenses will be charged by the square, at half of usual rates.

RECEIVING BOOKS.

JOSEPH MANUFACTURED, and for sale, THE SENTINEL Binder, a superior book for binding newspapers, maps, and documents, and for all other purposes, at a lower price than any other book for binding newspapers, maps, and documents, at the cheapest. We have them of various sizes.

MYSTERY.

TALLY BOOKS.

THOSE in want of Tally Books will please inquire, as they can be had at the lowest price in the city, and are made of the best paper, and far more chearful than the cheapest. We have them of various sizes.

THE NEWS.

The steamer Frances brings us latest news from the Old World. The news of peace with China is fully confirmed. The harvest in Europe is satisfactory, but the Liverpool bakers' market continues firm without change since the date of previous advices. Quite a number of interesting items of foreign news will be found in the telegraphic summaries.

MR. EYRETT, Engineer of the Atlantic Telegraph, was received at Oswego, yesterday, in grand style, and a banquet will be given there, in honor of the success of the enterprise in which Mr. E. took so active a part.

The Africans taken in the silver Koko who are to be immediately sent back to Africa.

The New York market for wheat and flour, yesterday, was without important change. Our two market was quiet, and common grades of wheat rather lower.

The weather was extremely sultry, with appearance of a storm towards evening.

THE EFFECT OF "FAVORABLE ALLIANCE."—The Madison Argus proposes to recall "all the pretty things" it has said of Mr. James S. Brown, "since it is known that such a regal 'rip,' as the Wrecker, has made a 'favorable alliance' to his nomination. Why won't 'the Daily Wrecker' learn to hold its tongue?"

FAVORITISM OF A CATHOLIC KING.—The King of Portugal has recently issued decrees by which slavery is at once abolished in Macao and in the African province of Angola, and prospectively in all the remainder of the Portuguese colonies; the children of female slaves heretofore born being declared to be entitled to their freedom on reaching the age of twenty years. Some of our Protestant "Southsiders" Doctors of Divinity should be sent to instruct this Catholic Majesty better as to his duties to black men.

ROCHESTER CONFIRMING VESSEL.—The schooner Charlotte, Capt. Farlam, which left Rochester about three months since, on a fishing cruise off the coast of Labrador, arrived at Charlotte, Tuesday, and was greeted by a salute of several guns, under the direction of Capt. Newcomb. Capt. Farlam reports the fisheries unusually poor this season. Vessels are not doing as well as in former years. The Charlotte brings 60,000 lbs. of Codfish, besides a quantity of Salmon, Halibut, and Spratled Trout; also a fine lot of tongue and sounds, and a lot of Liverpool saltin sacks.

STARVATION AT FRAZER RIVER.—A correspondent of the Newark (N. J.) Advertiser, writing from Frazer River, says:

Many companies make from 60 cents to $2.25 per day, and the men who work for the river or have gilded an average of $4 per day and the working has only been continued because of a belief that the river would fail, and in the bottom of the bars rich deposits could be found. The stories of $100, $100 and $150 per day and less, are all false. The men regarding the commencement of work, and wages, are not to be believed. Some report to me that they have been paid for horse meat, &c. &c. Pork, beef and flour are selling at some of the points where the crowds have gathered for $5 to $8 per day, and the men need no more than this to live on, but a starvation will be the fate of many. Casualty and death may do a man for a week or so, but if he has had food does not then come in, that man is gone.

DEATH OF HAWKINS, THE TEMPERANCE LECTURER.—A telegraphic despatch was received at the Temperance Committee Room, Boston, August 26, announcing that Mr. John H. W. Hawkins, the temperance lecturer and agent, died suddenly of cholera morbus, Thursday, at the residence of his son, in Parkersburg, Chester county, Pennsylvania, at the age of sixty years. He was one of the six Baltimore mechanics who started the celebrated "Wrecker" in 1841, and since that he had labored indefatigably in the great cause of temperance. He at one time shared the honors of fame in this field with John B. Gough though in manner and style the two men were widely different. Thousands will learn of his death with sadness. His labors had secured him some little property.

GOOD LIES PENSIONS IN ENGLAND.—One of the good practices of the English Government is that of giving pensions to the widows and orphans of people, or to their widows or heirs, when their circumstances are poor. Among those granted during the year ending June, 1858, we find the following: £30 to Mrs. Williamson, mother of the late Hugh Miller; £50 to Mrs. Dick, widow of the late Dr. Dick; £50 to Mrs. H. H. Hogg, daughter of the late Sir Robert Montgomery; £50 each to the daughters of the late John Lister, the American Explorer; £100 to the widow of the late Douglas Jerrold; £50 to S. H. Bradbury, the author of "The Last Days of Pompeii"; £100 to the widow of the late Dr. Parry, the Geologist. There are also pensions to widows of officers in India, and we observe one of £50 to Mrs. Rowcroft, widow of the late British Consul at Cincinnati. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

CAUCASIAN FAITH OVER ALLEGATORS.—Allegators' nests resemble haystacks. They are four or five feet high, and situated at their base, holding a mass of fine grass and twigs. Fine, they deposit one layer of eggs, on a layer of mortar, and having covered this with a stratum of mud and berbage, eight inches thick, lay another set of eggs upon that, and so on top, there being commonly from two to two hundred eggs in a nest. The shells are thin, and the eggs are round the nest; the denser the nest, the fewer are laid, and the shells are less. The eggs are laid high, to prevent the approach of unseen enemies. The female watches her eggs until they are all hatched by the heat of the sun, and then takes her brood over her back, and defending them from birds, she walks about the country. The female watches her eggs until they are all hatched by the heat of the sun, and then takes her brood over her back, and defending them from birds, she walks about the country. The female watches her eggs until they are all hatched by the heat of the sun, and then takes her brood over her back, and defending them from birds, she walks about the country. The female watches her eggs until they are all hatched by the heat of the sun, and then takes her brood over her back, and defending them from birds, she walks about the country. The female watches her eggs until they are all hatched by the heat of the sun, and then takes her brood over her back, and defending them from birds, she walks about the country.

CHARON'S COAT.—A boy, aged eleven years, met his death in a most horrible manner, recently, in Illinois. Mrs. Brice, who had been residing with a friend, and left the boy seated on the marshy bank of a stream, and, when he was seated, she observed a snake close by, and called out to his companion, (another boy,) at the same time striking his whip. This startled the horse, and he was jerked off and thrown in front of the boy, who instantly the boy was cut to pieces. Both legs and arms were severed from the body and the heart torn out.

NEW YORK.—Mr. Joseph D. Lathrop, of Greenport, N. Y., was robbed at home, while listening to the Woods' Minstrels, of a pocket book containing $1,1925.

THE WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT OF THE BOSTON Advertiser, while listening to the Woods' Minstrels, of a pocket book containing $1,1925.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—A boy, aged eleven years, met his death in a most horrible manner, recently, in Illinois. Mrs. Brice, who had been residing with a friend, and left the boy seated on the marshy bank of a stream, and, when he was seated, she observed a snake close by, and called out to his companion, (another boy,) at the same time striking his whip. This startled the horse, and he was jerked off and thrown in front of the boy, who instantly the boy was cut to pieces. Both legs and arms were severed from the body and the heart torn out.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, while listening to the Woods' Minstrels, of a pocket book containing $1,1925.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—A boy, aged eleven years, met his death in a most horrible manner, recently, in Illinois. Mrs. Brice, who had been residing with a friend, and left the boy seated on the marshy bank of a stream, and, when he was seated, she observed a snake close by, and called out to his companion, (another boy,) at the same time striking his whip. This startled the horse, and he was jerked off and thrown in front of the boy, who instantly the boy was cut to pieces. Both legs and arms were severed from the body and the heart torn out.

CHARON'S COAT.—Mr. Joseph D. Lathrop, of Greenport, N. Y., was robbed at home, while listening to the Woods' Minstrels, of a pocket book containing $1,1925.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

PAUL BUCKLEY, a young boy, was found dead, in a state of decomposition, in a box, for the Museum of St. Petersburg, but was recommended before he closed it to see that there was no damage to the eggs he had hatched on the way. On opening the box, a young alligator walked out, one was soon found by a boy, about a hundred, which he fed in his house, where they went up and down, snarling and barking like young puppies. —Lurel, the Geologist.

CHARON'S COAT.—Daniel O'Kyn, intoxicated and disorderly, died $10.

BUSINESS CARDS.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

EMMONS, VAN DYKE & HAMILTON,
Attorneys and General Law, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
100-102 East Water Street, corner of Water and Spring Streets.

HENRY W. COIT,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR AT LAW
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
AND ATTORNEY FOR THE STATE OF CON-NECTICUT. Office and Law Business, all its branches, located at 100-102 East Water and Wisconsin Streets, Milwaukee, Wis.

AMERICAN HOUSE,
Spring Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
BOARD $1 PER DAY.
F. KANE & SON.

DADD & GALLOWAY,
House, Sign and Ornamental Painters, Brasilia, Wisconsin, and the most reasonable workmanship, colors, and the most reasonable terms. A. H. Dadd, corner of Jefferson and Michigan Streets, Milwaukee. DADD & GALLOWAY.

A. W. RANDALL,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR AT LAW
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Milwaukee.

P. HUEGIN,
LAW OFFICES.

HANSEN & VERNER, ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
North Water Street, 1st Ward, Milwaukee and Markets, especially the Milwaukee—know ready to make any kind of business, and the most reasonable terms, and do any work in the field of law or otherwise.

W. H. GUNNISON,
WILL MAKE LIBERAL AND ADVANTAGEOUS BIDS FOR THE EXP-LICHS & BATHAWAY,
At Boston or New York doing the same services.
Office at Milwaukee, 102 East Water Street.

JOHN A. FICHIELLI,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
WATAPAC, (April 1854) WISCONSIN.

FRANCIS S. HICKOK,
ARTIST AND ENGRAVER.
ORDERS sent at the Sentinel Office will receive prompt attention and be filled in a few days.

J. A. BENEDICT,
MANUFACTURING FARMER.

THE ATTENTION of the public is particularly invited to the fact that I am now manufacturing very satisfactory and of fair price, and of all kinds, including, granaries and black-legs, all milled grain, milled and cracked, and all kinds of grain, and flour, and bran, and black-legs, in one place.

EDWARD HODDIS,
F. B. F., F. B., Lard, Tallow, &c., &c., &c.,
West Water Street, near Spring Street,
Milwaukee. (Aug 25, 1854) WISCONSIN.

JAMES S. O'BRIEN,
ORGAN BUILDER,
Corner of Milwaukee and Michigan Streets,
Marquette.

JAMES H. DODGE,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,
PARTICULARLY attention given in the collecting of debts, &c. Office No. 3 Mitchell's Block, Milwaukee. (Feb 25, 1854) WISCONSIN.

UPHAMS & GRAHAM,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Milwaukee, (Aug 1854) WISCONSIN.

W. H. BROWN,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW,
Milwaukee.

WOODWARD, PIERCE & MURRAY,
ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS,
OFFICE NO. 3 ALBANY BUILDING, MILWAUKEE,
WIS. (Aug 24, 1854) WISCONSIN.

Beef and Pork Packing Establishment.

EDWARD HODDIS.

F. B. F., F. B., Lard, Tallow, &c., &c., &c., &c.,

West Water Street, near Spring Street,
Milwaukee. (Aug 25, 1854) WISCONSIN.

JOHN PLANKINTON & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS OF
SOAP AND CANDLES,
West Water Street, Milwaukee. (Aug 25, 1854) WISCONSIN.

LIPMAN & RIDDLE,
LITHOGRAPHIC ESTABLISHMENT.

No. 216 East Water Street, Milwaukee,
OVER THE MARINE BANK.

THE UNDERSIGNED being practical lithographers, are prepared to execute all orders in the usual and most reasonable manner.

Maps, Plans, Views of Buildings, Show Cards, Checks,
etc. Particular attention given to Rail Road Maps, &c. &c.

Persons qualified to work our prints will be requested to call on us.

It is our desire to patronize our friends in preference to sending their work to Chicago and New York, we would be happy to have them do so.

JOHN KARST,
DESIGNER AND ENGRAVER.

ILLUSTRATIONS for books and papers, Views of Buildings, Portraits, Autographs, Show Cards, Labels etc. especially the lithography of the Arts at the North and South Poles.

JOHN KARST.

CHARLES S. BELL,
CIVIL ENGINEER, SURVEYOR AND
REAL ESTATE AGENT, T.,
Room No. 8, KNEELAND'S BLOCK.

LEE & KINNAIRD,
BANKERS & LAND AGENTS,
MOCRECOR, IOWA.

CHARLES LORENCE, M.
MADISON, WISCONSIN.

GENERAL LAND AGENT & COMMISSIONER,
Notary Public, &c.

SMITH & BRADSHAW,
ARCHITECTS,
Office Phoenix Building, Milwaukee, Wis.

DESIGNS AND DRAWINGS for
Churches, Chapels, School Houses and Business Buildings, also for the decoration of Streets and Public Buildings.

Correct Estimates will invariably accompany Drawings and Specifications.

BROOKS & STEVENSON,
Portrait and Landscape
PAINTERS.

Studio, corner of East Water and Wisconsin Streets,
Over Van Court's.

MARTIN L. KIRKHAM,
Attorney at Law, Berlin, Marquette County,
Wisconsin.

LAW AND LAND OFFICE
OF WILLIAM MONAIG,
WISCONSIN.

WILLIAM MONA

